Caliber Collision Centers
Continues Support for Faith for Soldiers with $5,000 Donation

IRVINE, CA - April 27, 2011 – Caliber Collision Centers, operator of high-quality collision repair facilities in California and Texas, announced its continued support for the Faith for Soldiers active military service non-profit organization with a $5,000 donation provided to founders Sgt. 1st Class Terry Mason and his wife Tina at the Caliber Collision Killeen, TX location today.

Faith for Soldiers was founded by Sgt. 1st Class Terry Mason, 61st Combat Support Hospital, 1st Medical Brigade, and his wife Tina just over 14 months ago after the Nov. 5, 2009, shootings at Fort Hood. Terry and Tina Mason have helped soldiers and their spouses cope with the stresses of military and family life unofficially for years before formally creating the “Faith for Soldiers” nonprofit organization. The organization is called "Faith for Soldiers," after their daughter, Faith, who died shortly after her birth 11 years ago.

"On any given day, we're working with 10 military families," Terry Mason said. "We provide emotional support, facilitate domestic interventions and provide all sorts of other tangibles like meals and clothing."

Steve Grimshaw, Caliber Collision Center Chief Executive Officer explained, "We are continuing our support of Terry and Tina Mason's Faith for Soldiers organization in 2011 with a $5,000 donation because there is a huge need among active military families for help with injury, personal tragedy or the death of a spouse or child."

“This donation will help hundreds of military families over 2011 with food, clothing, spiritual and emotional counseling and smoothing the rough edges off the daily stresses of active military life” said Tina Mason.
