Caliber Collision Centers

Opens 17th Center in the Greater Los Angeles Area

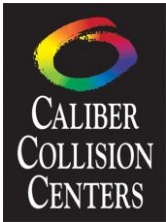

9th new center opening in 2012

LEWISVILLE, TX – April 16, 2012 – Caliber Collision Centers continues to expand in the greater Los Angeles area with the announcement today that it has acquired Burgess Auto Body & Paint and reopened the location as Caliber Lancaster.

“Today’s opening of our new Lancaster center brings our total number of locations in the greater Los Angeles market area to 17 as we continue to grow both organically and through strategic acquisitions across the southwest,” said Steve Grimshaw, Caliber Collision Centers’ Chief Executive Officer. “This new center also creates additional capacity across the Los Angeles market as we provide our insurance clients the customer focus, operational consistency and cost management they require in today’s competitive insurance market.”

Caliber Collision’s newly acquired 18,500 square foot collision repair facility officially opened today at 146 East Avenue K4, Lancaster, CA 93535.

“Our new Lancaster center provides another example of how Caliber Collision continues to grow across the greater Los Angeles market as the collision repair provider of choice,” added Mark Sanders, Chief Operating Officer for Caliber Collision Centers.
