Caliber Collision Centers Expands into North and South Carolina Markets with B&R Body Shop Acquisition

LEWISVILLE, TX – November 6, 2015 – Caliber Collision Centers, the largest collision repair company in the U.S., announced that it has acquired B&R Body Shop in North Carolina.

B&R Body Shop has served the Metro Charlotte Area for more than 75 years in North Carolina with six locations in and around the Charlotte as well as a location in Rock Hills, South Carolina.

Steve Grimshaw, Caliber Collision Chief Executive Officer announced, “We are extremely excited to have the B&R Body Shop organization join forces with Caliber Collision as we continue to grow into the collision repair provider of choice in North and South Carolina.”

“The B&R Body Shop facilities and management team are perfectly aligned with our purpose, vision and mission. Tommy Morgan, Brandon Hawkins and their team have consistently delivered unparalleled customer satisfaction and industry-leading operational consistency for more than seven decades,” added Grimshaw.

"It's exciting to take the next step for the B&R organization. We've done a lot over the past three years and we are looking forward to having even more opportunities to grow with Caliber." said Brandon Hawkins, General Manager of B&R. Brandon will be joining the Caliber Collision team as the Director of Charlotte Operations.

David Roberts, Managing Director at Focus Bankers Automotive Group, who led the engagement for FOCUS acknowledged the good fit, "It was a pleasure working with Tommy and Brandon to help them find the best home for their business. As the largest collision repair company in the U.S., Caliber is building a solid footprint in the Charlotte market. This is a win for both parties."

"Our acquisition of B&R Body Shop increases Caliber's total number of locations to 339 as we continue to restore each and every customer to the rhythm of their lives," said Mark Sanders, Caliber Collision Centers' President and Chief Operating Officer.
